What do I want to learn and understand better?

This week I'm not so sure in what I want to get better. I believe that I have gotten a much better understanding of the terminal since this project started and I've learned react. I still want to learn react even better and I want to get better at estimating the effort for different tasks.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

Other than what I've mentioned earlier weeks I don't know what I can help the group with. I think we are all very good at helping each other. We all have unique skills that contribute to the project and I learn so much from everyone else. Hopefully they learn from me as well.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

I've taken part in discussions on how we should prioritize our userstories, mostly based on what will create a value for our costumers. I also helped to create some new userstories.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

Just as previous weeks I've worked in a smaller group, me, Sara and Oscar. This week we have started with a page for the producer where they can see and edit the items they're selling.
