What do I want to learn and understand better?

I want to get better at debug code whenever things don't work out as planned. As in right now, I usually get stuck and I don't know how to get past my problem if I can't find any solutions on google. Instead I find myself having to rely on somebody else. I think this is mostly just because I don't know react that well but I think it's in general when I'm coding as well. I don't know how to get past this other than just to keep trying different solutions and getting more comfortable coding.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

Next sprint we will start with our presentation and I believe I have some knowledge about presentation techniques that I can share with the rest of the team. I also thin I can help out with the final design touches on our project which will help our web page to get o more union look.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

I have used our trello storyboard whilst working, to understand what creates a value. I also participated in team meetings and discussions.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

In the beginning of this sprint I fixed some issues that we had with our increase button, and I also fixed some style settings on our page. I also helped writing the team reflection and participated in meetings. Unfortunately we struggled trying to save new products on the inventory page and I couldn't figure out why

, so I feel like I didn't contribute as much as I would like to this week. But Oscar managed to find a solution and I believe that what me, Sara and Oscar create this week, a page for farmers where they can edit their products, really created a good flow and value for our costumers.
