What do i want to learn and understand better?

I want to learn and understand javascript and the react library better, get a good foundation and more knowledge of language-specifics. I also want to better understand how this process works in a real company, what KPIs they use and what methods they implement.

How can i help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I can try my best to work at my programming skills and pass them on. As last weeks scrum master i could also read up a bit extra on some methods to use with the group, to make our work easier.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

i was the scrum master for this week, i pushed on daily scrums and the use of sprint effectiveness. I also helped implement some new methods like a developer satisfaction survey and also created a slack workspace for daily scrums and deliverables discussion.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

Together with Louise i coded the items to be dynamically loaded and appear in a list below the farmer, i also made the '+' and '-'-buttons work.
