What do i want to learn and understand better?

This week we have decided to use react, which I've never worked with, so I'm looking forward to learn it.

How can i help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

We've decided that for next week we're gonna do reacts own tutorial and after that I think we can all learn from each others experiences. I want to read and look for others documentation and tutorial as well, which might be help full for somebody else.

what is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

We've not started to use scrum yet. This week our main focus has been to decide our project.

what is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

We've all help out to create the business model canvas and a mock-up.
