Oscar OK

1. I want to learn to present the value of my product to someone that can give me feedback so that I can improve and become better at communicating value. I hope to learn this during the presentation
2. At the end of the project I wish to teach the others to look back and reflect over the project so that they learn something valuable for the future. During our final project review this will hopefully happen.
3. No additions have been made to our way of working with SCRUM.
4. I helped merge a lot of parts that weren't connected fully and added some final features. In order to deliver even more effectively in the future I will remember to check for existing packages and components that can save a lot if time.
